

Longleat House

Longleat House is widely regarded as one of the best examples of high Elizabethan architecture in Britain and one of the most beautiful stately homes open to the public

Average Duration:

Up to 1 hour

Longleat House operates a free-flow system from Saturday 4 April to Sunday 1 November 2009. Guides are positioned in most rooms and are happy to answer any questions that you may have. For information on guided tours, please contact: headguide@longleat.co.uk.

During school holidays and at busy times the tour of Longleat House will be restricted for conservation reasons.

Points to Note

- Access to Longleat House for both visitors with limited mobility and wheelchair users is via the Victorian Kitchens at the rear of Longleat House. A lift provides access to all floors. Please ask a member of staff to arrange this
- On the advice of the Fire Service, only three wheelchair users are allowed on any floor at any one time; therefore it is only possible to accommodate six wheelchairs in the house at any one time.
- Light levels are carefully controlled within Longleat House to ensure the conservation of paintings and furnishings
- For conservation reasons, it is not possible to allow pushchairs into Longleat House. A Pushchair Park is available at the rear of the House for the storage of pushchairs during House visits only. Longleat accepts no liability for loss or damage to pushchairs left unattended
- A limited supply of hip rests (for babies 6 months to 3 years) are available at the Front Desk. Please ask if you would like to borrow one for the duration of your visit to the House. A returnable deposit will be required
- Tours of Lord Bath's Murals can be booked at the Front Desk of Longleat House on the day of your visit. Free entry with Longleat House or Passport Ticket. Tours are subject to availability
